

Listening well, growing together for Age Friendly Kāpiti

Roots: Grounded in Community Voice

Trunk: Shared Responsibility and Leadership

Branches: Actions where our Approach comes to life

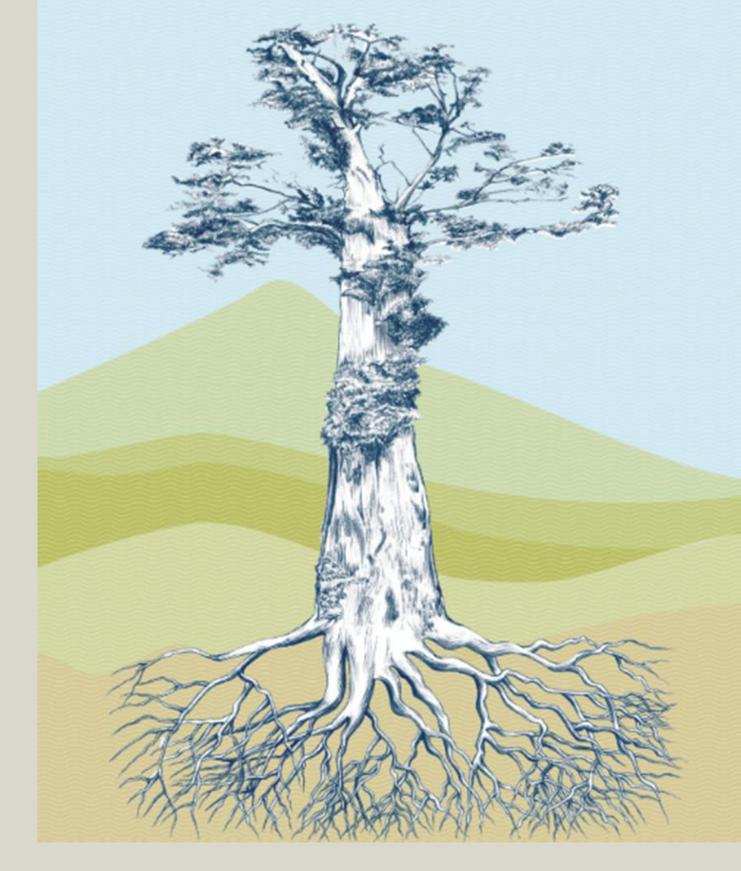

Seeds: Systems Change and Sprouting New Ideas

Gnarly Points: Navigating Twists and Prickly Bits

Forest: Collective Flourishing

The Totara - A framework for growth

"We separate the aged and youth too much, we need to work together on inspiring projects"

"For me it's leading an active lifestyle where I can tramp, hunt, fish and dive plus fulfil the obligations in terms of being Maori."

Roots: Grounded in Community Voice

"I like the whakatauki, 'He taonga te wareware.' One explanation is it recognises as we get older we get forgetful nevertheless we're still taonga."

Trunk:

Shared Responsibility and Leadership

Clear Connection to Strategic Goals: It aligns with Council's vision for wellbeing, accessibility, and inclusion across all services and infrastructure.

Branches of Action: Where Our Approach Comes to Life

Council alongside Community Projects

Blending resources and expertise for greater impact.

Really friendly ... Age Friendly activities

Building buy-in and action with Council staff

It's a dynamic process of learning by doing

We're working internally across Council to celebrate age-friendly workstreams, support teams to get inspired and grow Age Friendly Champions.

Seeds: Systems Change

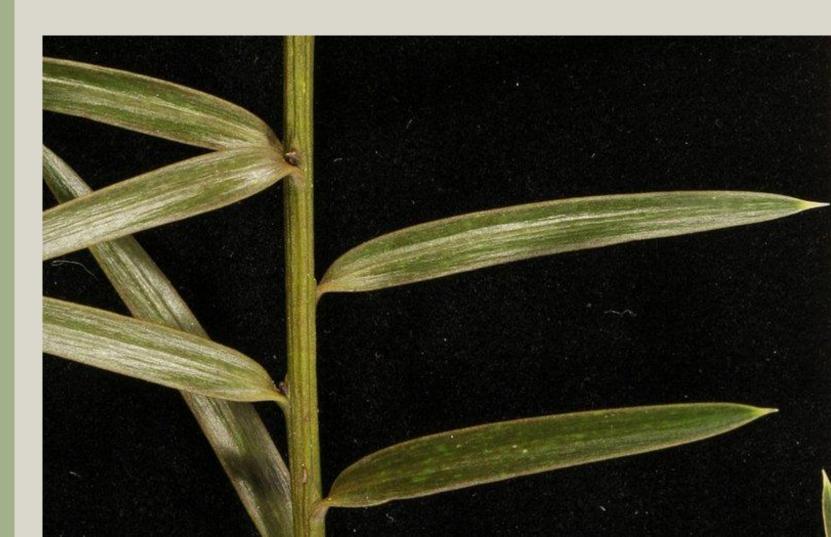

...and sprouting new ideas

Gnarly Points

Keeping Age Friendly visible as a longterm systems change, not a short-term initiative

Nga mihi

Whakarongo ki ngā kupu o ngā kaumātua, kākahutia i runga i a koe, mau e hoatu ki te ao

Listen to the wisdom of your elders, cloak yourself with this knowledge, to share with the world
